Dear Parishioners,

The Season of Lent opens this week on Ash Wednesday. In order to make it possible for those who wish to receive Ashes on Ash Wednesday, there will be a Service of the Word with Holy Communion and distribution of Ashes at 10 am at Callington, and Masses at 8.30am Launceston and 10.30 am Bude. We will not be running a Lenten course in the parish this year, but there is an excellent online course recommended by the diocese. Please find all the details in the newsletter, you have already received some Lenten resources from Caritas Plymouth. I will also make a Stations of the Cross available online. Details in due course.

The Rite for Distributing Ashes will be slightly different than in previous years, with the sprinkling of Blessed Ash over the head of the penitent, without physical contact, and in silence, and wearing face coverings, rather than the Imposition of Ashes marked by a sign of the cross upon the forehead of the penitent. The Ashes will be blessed at the usual time in Mass (after the Gospel) but not distributed until the end of Mass immediately after reception of Holy Communion, when the Ashes will be sprinkled upon each members of the congregation as he or she leaves church. The Ashes distributed at Callington I will have blessed beforehand and will also be sprinkled over the heads of the faithful as they leave church after Holy Communion.

The Bishops' Conference of England and Wales has consulted with Professor Jim McManus, who has discussed the issue with colleagues in Public Health England. He has noted that it is highly unlikely that ash would be on a person's head long enough to pick up enough contaminated fluid bearing the virus from skin to then infect someone. The recommended method of distributing ashes is that the ashes are sprinkled over the heads of people at the door of the church as they leave. Care should be taken to avoid hand to head contact and also that there is no contact with the faithful and the minister's vesture.

Today is a day of special prayer for racial justice, our marking of this is more important than ever. The effects of the pandemic, the killing of George Floyd, and the powerful message on fraternity and equality by Pope Francis in 'Fratelli Tutti' speak of the need to actively oppose racism and pursue racial justice anew. I wonder when all humanity will realise that we are all brothers and sisters and equally loved by Almighty God.

As a prayer initiative for Lent, members of the Council of European Bishops Conferences will offer Mass for all those who have lost their lives in the coronavirus pandemic. Bishop Mark will offer Mass on 2nd March for all those who have died, and we shall offer Mass in our parish in union with him on that day. You can join us on that day either in person or online.

With every good wish and blessing,
Fr John

*Please keep in your prayers the parents of Rosie Coral Bogue who was recently baptised at Our Lady of Victories, Callington.
May God bless her and her family as they grow in His knowledge and love.*

Caritas Lent Resources

Caritas Plymouth has developed some resources for individual, group and parish reflection during Lent 2021. The resources include podcasts, links to websites and ideas for reflection during Lent, with a focus on Catholic Social Teaching, we hope that you find this material inspiring. You can also find the link on the 'newsletter' page on the parish website.

Lent begins with Ash Wednesday on 17th February

The funeral for Derek Towl RIP was held on Friday 12th February at Barnstaple Crematorium, and the funeral for Eileen Soley RIP was held on Wednesday 10th February
